STIPULATION FOR RELIEF FROM PROTECTIVE ORDER

NOW COME the parties hereto, by and through their respective counsel, and stipulate as follows:

1. On July 29, 2016, the OSC filed a complaint charging Adam Rosenthal with Count 1 – Misconduct in Office; Count 2 – Tampering with Evidence; Count 3 – Tampering with Evidence; and Count 4 – Willful Neglect of Duty.

2. On October 19, 2017, Adam Rosenthal entered into a plea agreement with the OSC wherein the original Counts 1 through 4 were dismissed, and he entered a co-contest plea to added Count 5 – Public Records; inspection; use; copying; removal (MCL 750.492).

3. An unopposed Motion to Dismiss Count 5 filed by Todd Flood, Special Assistant Attorney General, will have been granted by this Honorable Court the time this Stipulation is presented.

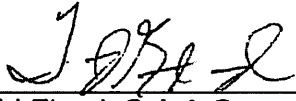

4. During the pendency of this case, the parties entered into a Discovery Protective Order.

5. In pertinent part, the Protective Order prohibits the release of "all discovery material regardless of which party produced it," including "any investigative subpoena transcript." (Protective Order, ¶ 5.)

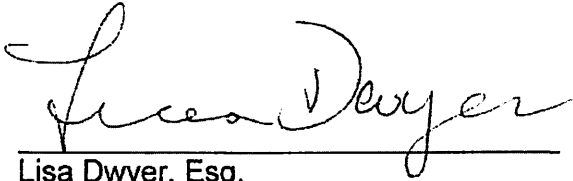

6. This Court's authority to grant this motion lies in the fact that Defendant is no longer a party to the underlying litigation, as all charges have been dismissed. Because Defendant's original and last remaining criminal charge has been dismissed, the parties hereto, specifically Plaintiff and Defendant, seek dissolution of the protective order inasmuch as the Protective Order was to remain in effect exclusively during the pendency of the case.

7. The Parties concur in the relief sought.

IT IS SO STIPULATED.
